"TO ME, FAITH MEANS NOT WORRYING"

Faith, a strong belief in supernatural power or powers that control human ^{destiny} density. According to me it can be categorized into sub-category. First, belief in Oneness of Allah Almighty. Second, Belief in One own self. Last but not the least, belief in Homo Sapiens.

The trait of believing in the honesty and reliability of others, personally destroyed my trust in human beings which lead me to a firm believe in the oneness of Allah Almighty. I have never been at ease when I shared myself with human beings. As, I fear them. I always had this thing that things can go wrong if they are shared with them and this is quite true. Relying someone like humans is taking responsibility for one's conduct and obligation. If we are trusting someone, they can use our weaknesses. So, one should have to be very careful while opting someone worthy enough to trust on.

Whenever one bow down before Him, we give our submission and reverence towards Him. A feeling of satisfaction and gratification predominate us just because we are wise enough to bow before the one who is trustworthy of all. He is the one with whom we share our self without least hesitation, reluctance and botheration. We all are well aware of that He'll never let us down, respect our intuitive feelings and, never leave ^{us} in isolation like humans. That's why He should be praised, commended and admired. For me salat is not a duty or any obligation at all, it's what we feel like submitting our self before Him.

Faith in Him always holds me back from every upcoming possible menace or danger. I hardly believe human in that case which can come and demolish one's self-respect and dignity. Wrinkles don't appear on my forehead even if I'm going through any circumstance. I know that He'll never leave me alone in my problems, for He is having every solution to my Problems. My ^{trivial problems} trivial problems are not big for Him. He can tackle every situation without trouble as he is closer than axillary artery and He knows every bit of us. For me faith means not worrying. I trust in Him and in return I'm rewarded with His endless blessings. When one trust owns self he is capable of performing his task being ^{not} dependent on anyone. Only he has a trust in himself and the Almighty. When two of these factors in concert, that makes a person potent in this entire world. Noting to worry about, let things flow the way they are flowing you'll find your way out of it. Whatever the situation and scenario is, there is a way which can drive you through the problem. It is rightly said that "Where there is a will there is a way."

Keeping the faith can only lead you in this world. As we all know that, life is not bed of roses. We have to be adequate to satisfy our own self. We can't satisfy anyone but, still we can comfort them with every possible way. That's what our religion is and the base of Creation of the universe. One should do social work and help mankind. Considering the fact that you'll be rewarded one day by Him, keep this faith and work without gratis. Nonetheless, you yourself will feel satisfied by such acts.

The verses of Holy Quran say:

"To Him will be your return-of all of you. The promise of Allah is true and sure. It is He who beginneth the process of certain and repeateth it, that He may reward with justice those who believe and work righteousness."

Working with the power of faith in Him, one self can open new horizons of life. Be faithful in small things because it is in them that your strength lies. It's a passionate institution which cannot be hold but, can grow.
